

Save space and expense

IKAFLOR plastic flooring takes up half as much space as wooden flooring systems and weighs far less. It is easier to store, easier to transport and easier to lay. And a single person can lay it alone. From a financial point of view, time and money can thus be saved in both the short and long run.

Simple Maintenance

IKAFLOR plastic flooring can be washed or high-pressure hosed and can withstand all standard cleaning agents. This saves you time and the flooring remains in perfect condition year after year.

IKAFLLOOR

IKAFLLOOR is a modular flooring system suitable for a variety of purposes, including marquees, party tents and much, much more. The system consists of 50x50 cm robust plastic floor tiles, which can be quickly and easily joined to form a presentable floor with a hard-wearing, easy-to-clean surface. The tiles can be joined at will to form larger sections and the coupling system ensures a firm, even and exceptionally stable flooring.

Applications

- Party tents
- Beer tents
- Bar tents
- Sales tents
- Exhibition tents
- Outdoor events
- And much, much more

IKAFLLOOR is also available with chamfered edges.

Easy fitting

IKAFLLOOR plastic flooring should be laid with the tiles staggered. Begin in one corner and lay tiles to form one of the sides. Start the next row with a half tile, thus staggering the tiles in this row in relation to the first. Fast, easy and efficient, even for a single person.

Presentable appearance

No matter the use, IKAFLLOOR provides presentable flooring. It has an unobtrusive surface and is ideal for banquets, exhibitions, outdoor functions and many other events. Outdoors and indoors alike.
